

Advocates help people with a disability to enjoy their right to a good life.

Advocates help you sort out problems or difficulties.

Advocates help you if you have a problem with

- police
- the courts
- your employer
- disability services
- at the shops

Advocates can help you anywhere you might have a problem.

Independent advocates are on your side.

Independent advocates work for you.

They don't work for the places you have problems with.